

The Himalayan Village, Kasol

Real insight to the lifestyle, culture, cuisines, architecture of the "Pahari people"

Parvati River at Kasol

Kasol is a village situated on the banks of the Parvati River, on the way between Bhunter to Manikaran in Himachal Pradesh. Tourists are attracted to the scenic valley for its untouched natural beauty, low population and great climate throughout the year. Kasol is also a base for Trekking to Sar Pass, Yanker Pass, Pin Parbati Pass and Khiriganga.

The village has thick deodar (pine) forest as the crown, river parvati wetting its feet, mountains made of black hard-rock, with as many features as one's mind can think of protruding as lingas in different shapes & sizes. making a perfect backdrop for the village.

"The Himalayan Village" situated in Kasol, at the foothills of the famous malana village, the oldest democracy in the world & just 10 K.M short of manikaran, famous for its hot water springs, right on the bank of ice cold Parvati river..

The valley has some real good treks, majestic flower valleys, thick flora and fauna, crystal clear waterfalls, rivers in virtuous serene parvati valley the "tapobhoomi" of shiv Shambhu..

6 Cottages and 2 Machans made in pure traditional & ancient Kathkunia style (dry stacking of stone & wood without cement), with mud plastered walls from inside blending perfectly with deodar wood work, beautifully hand carved teak furniture, handmade tussle silk curtains, traditional brass fittings make a perfect blend of aesthetics and class.

The cottages based on different districts of Himachal have a build in area of 600- 750 sq ft with mini bar, mini fridges, study, separate dressing, fully furnished and equipped toilets and personal lawns.
